CIRCUS TRAINERS SCORED AS CRUEL

Humanitarian Urges Crusade to Help Animals.

SPURS AND LASHES TOO FREE

Formulated thousands of years ago, which have since been accepted by the entire civilized world. Humane treatment of animals is indeed an old story in the annals of mankind. But the gulf between precept and practice has taken centuries to bridge, and only now is the world coming into its heritage of a universal law, to which all, high and low, must bow.

"Pragmatism, the philosophical doctrine associated with the name of the late William James, is, in my view, a moral and spiritual utilitarianism. This simply means that a great truth, or a great law, must be tested by its actual, tangible, concrete results. Abstractions must give way to homely, effective truths."

Sanjuro Honda, a Japanese delegate, spoke on "A Japanese view of American life in a witty fashion. He said he came to the United States to find a charming American wife, but had been unable to find one. Besides, he added, he knew no American girl would have him.

Edward G. Fairholme, secretary of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, gave a brief outline of the work carried on in Great Britain. Rev. William De Loss Love, of Boston, made a brief speech on the American humane association, at the Arlington Hotel, last night.

"The time is arrived," he declared, "when this organization must take a stand against a common but little understood type of barbarous cruelty—that practiced by circus trainers on their charges. The circus often has secrets of its own which never reach the outer world, but some which have accidentally been revealed to us are shocking.

"There is no educational value in seeing animals perform by force. When they are driven to go through certain tricks by cruel goads, when the lash is applied to them, and spurs are driven into their flanks, it is time to call a halt.

Captivity Sometimes Cruel.

Some wild animals it is an act of cruelty to keep them in captivity. Others would show timidity in performing as a result of acts of torture which they have undergone. They should not be allowed to perform, and should not be allowed to perform as a result of acts of torture which they have undergone.

Many years before the coming of Christ, China had laws regarding the proper treatment of animals," said the distinguished delegate from the Celestial Empire. "She revered the patient ox and the docile ass. She had laws against the adequate protection to all animals which assisted in the labor of man, and she cooperated in this world-wide movement."

Old Story in the East.

Mr. Arthur H. Hays, of New York, spoke as follows: "We who belong to the Western world have the great advantage of the West. The great laws were made in the West."

TAFT WILL MAKE TRIP TO PANAMA

Reaches Decision After Talk with Col. Goethals.

JOURNEY TO TAKE TEN DAYS

Leaving the Isthmus Two Days After Election, the President Will Study Canal Zone Problems Which Will Be Placed Before Congress in His Message—Workmen Want Increase.

Beverly, Oct. 13.—Congress will be called upon this winter to pass important legislation for the Panama Canal.

President Taft considers the proposition which he will recommend in his coming message of so much importance that he has reversed his decision not to go to the isthmus this fall, and will leave on the trip on November 10, two days after election.

The President expects to be out of the country about ten days, spending two or three days on the isthmus.

The President's decision to go to Panama was reached to-day after a conference here with Col. George W. Goethals.

The President in going to Panama intends to take up the problems that will face this government after the opening of the canal to the ships of the world.

Faces Government Problem. One of the questions to be determined by the President is what form of government he will recommend to Congress for the Canal Zone. At present the strip of land ten miles wide across the isthmus is governed under Executive order.

The question presented now is whether the canal, as a fortified post, shall have a military governor under the control of the War Department, or whether there shall be a civil government, with only military rule for the fortified posts. Gen. Goethals will urge the establishment of a military government for the entire zone.

Another question that the President will call to the attention of Congress next winter will be the establishment of a tollgate for the canal.

The question of fortifications also will engage the President's attention while he is on the isthmus.

The labor problem will come before Mr. Taft while he is on the isthmus. The higher class of workmen on the canal have asked for an increase in wages because of the "increased cost of living."

Workmen Want Increase. President Taft intends also to make a personal investigation of the slide in Culebra Cut.

The President will sail for Panama from Charleston on the United States cruiser North Carolina, which will be conveyed by the cruiser Montana.

The President will go to Cincinnati to vote. The President's trip to Panama will be the second time that he has been out of the country.

PRISON FOR BOYS. Three Convicted of Highway Robbery—Sentence Later.

Henry M. Brooks, John N. Cunningham, and Emile Doust were found guilty of highway robbery in Justice Wright's Court yesterday. The jury returned a verdict shortly after 5 o'clock, and Justice Wright will pass sentence in the morning.

The young men held up Dallas R. Bowman and Markham E. McQueen several weeks ago. After a warm battle between the three young men and their victims they escaped. A watch was all they obtained. It was found on one of the boys when they were arrested.

YOM KIPPUR AT END. Jewish Holiday Festivities Come to Close.

With impressive services in the Hebrew ritual, the synagogues of Washington celebrated Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, yesterday.

At sundown the ceremonial closed after a twenty-four hour observance, and the Jewish world resumed secular activities.

Preaching on "The call to duty," Rabbi Louis Stern delivered a sermon in Eighth Street Temple at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He reviewed the impressive history of Judaism and spoke in optimistic terms of the future. Rabbi Simon preached in the morning.

Services were held in all the Hebrew temples, and were well attended. Many of the Jewish business houses were closed throughout the day.

Sims Held in $3,000 Bond. John G. Sims, former manager of the Washington branch of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who suddenly went insane and attempted suicide in a physician's office, yesterday waived examination in Police Court on a charge of embezzling $32 from the company. He was held in $3,000 bond for the action of the grand jury.

Former Watchman Guilty. Pleading guilty to the theft of cable, containing twenty-two telephone wires from American League baseball park, Charles Miller, former watchman at the grounds, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Aukam, to pay a fine of $100 or serve six months in jail.

Artistic Homes. We believe that we are prepared to offer homes that have reached the highest pinnacle of artistic perfection, price and quality considered. We would like every person who appreciates a pretty home to see one of our sample houses, whether they are prospective purchasers or not. To verify our statement that we are prepared to offer to the most artistic taste, do not fail to see the houses on the lake. Unobstructed view of three miles; decorative of such quality that a large portion of the house is of solid oak; six rooms; gas and electric lights; parquet flooring; hot-water heat; and everything else equal to the best. Take 10th St. car, get off at Harvard St., walk one block east, open evenings and Sunday.

If you are interested in a large house, semi-detached, you should inspect 518 Quincy St. Sample No. 2. The same general description as above, with exception that they have also rooms, semi-detached, beamed and paneled dining room. Write or phone ZEPF BROS., 1235 F St. N. W., or your real estate agent, who will take pleasure in showing you any of these properties.

ZEPF BROTHERS, 1235 F St. N. W.

Phone Main 3111. We pay full commission to Agents.

Damage Suit Set Aside. A verdict was rendered yesterday in favor of Moore & Hill as agents of the Naples apartment house. Suit had been brought by Charlotte W. Vorell for the recovery of $1,000 damages for alleged injuries sustained by her in being unable to obtain a suite of rooms in the Naples after she had contracted for same and made a deposit. The defendants claimed that right of action in the case obtained against the owners and not against the agents.
